

MEDIA

Where do you get your information? Do you feel your voice is represented, whether through the newspaper, radio, television or cinema? The organizations listed below are committed to making sure that everyone plays a part in how information gets out. You can write for a youth newspaper, take or teach computer classes or edit a national magazine. You don't have to sit back and let the media speak for you; you have the power to create media that speaks to your experience!
